SEMI-ANNUAL TAX PAYMENTS.

We have several times suggested the collection of our State and County taxes in semi-annual, or in two separate payments, and do away with this unpopular and harassing attack upon one's purse in the Fall of the year, at a time when business is dull and work, generally speaking, is not to be had. We are glad to notice that some of our contemporaries are awakening to the good points of the proposition. We believe the matter was broached in the last Legislature, but nothing came of it—perhaps because there was "nothing in it" for an itching palm.

There is no question but what it would be better for the taxpayers of this State and for the State and counties if the taxes were so divided as to be collected semi-annually. The county tax, which is the heaviest, could be collected in July, when work and money are to be had, and the State tax, which is light, in the Fall, when business is dull. This would insure closer collections and make short delinquent lists, and would be a great advantage generally. It would prevent the hoarding in the county vaults of thousands of dollars, which ought to be in circulation among the people—in other words, the money paid in July on account of taxes would be in circulation in the Fall to enable the people to pay their State taxes, and the Fall taxes would be drawn out and circulated, so that the July taxes could be met without inconvenience or hardship to any taxpayer. A division of the payment would do away with the necessity of compelling Tax Collectors to give enormous bonds, which are difficult to obtain in the smaller counties, and, for that matter, in many of the larger ones. They would have, under such a revenue law, no great amount of money in hand at any one time.

Under our present laws the taxes, State and county combined, fall due just at Christmas time, when men in moderate circumstances, and with no bank account to draw on, would like a little money to enjoy the holiday season with their families, but in hundreds of cases the head of the house is obliged to pay on tax account about all he has been able to save, and the family must be denied many pleasures that might come to it under a different tax law. No man likes to pay taxes, notwithstanding it is the only way the government works can be greased and kept running, and it should be the duty of our law makers to devise a plan by which one can be made to look upon the payment of taxes more as a pleasure than as a forced duty. We hope some of our hold-over Senators will give this matter their attention between this and the meeting of the next Legislature, and formulate a bill to bring about the much-desired reform in the collection of taxes in this State, and he will be remembered in the prayers of the faithful.

DEATH OF S. S. COX.

Congressman S. S. Cox, familiarly known as "Sunset" Cox, died, after a brief illness, at his home in New York, at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday evening, at the age of 65. His life was a busy one. He entered the law profession but dropped it and became owner and editor of the Columbus (O.) Statesman in 1853. He was appointed Secretary of the American Legation at Fern, Ohio, and served several terms. He then moved to New York, and was again sent to Congress from that city. In 1876 he was elected Speaker of the House. Cleveland appointed him Minister to Turkey, and he resigned his seat in Congress to accept that position, but he soon got all the "turkey" he wanted and resigned, came home and was re-elected to Congress, serving altogether nearly thirty years in that body. He was the author of several readable works, and was a great humorist, even jesting on his death-bed, but a few moments before he breathed his last. While he was no great statesman, he was a useful member of Congress, and such men the country can ill afford to lose.

The Terry affair has brought into unpleasant prominence Todd county, Kentucky. Investigation shows that not only Judge Terry, but Jeff Davis and Roger Q. Mills were born in that county.

L. W. Byington, of Santa Rosa, is the new Internal Revenue Collector for the Fourth District, which takes in Nevada.

Ex-Governor Warmouth, of Louisiana, has been appointed Collector of Customs at New Orleans.

Maine is suffering from drought and forest fire, and an immense amount of damage has resulted therefrom.

A Grand Army monument was unveiled by the Sacramento Posts in the Sacramento Cemetery on Monday—Admission Day.

The Native Sons of the Golden West will erect a monument in Golden Gate Park in honor of the California Pioneers.

The cruiser Philadelphia was launched from Cramp Bros.' ship yard on Saturday last. She is to make 19 knots, but no horse power is specified in the contract. Why should the horse power racket be foisted on the Charleston?
